4. Guidance for schools on maintaining and transferring pupil safeguarding/child protection records

This guidance replaces the previous document 'Managing Shared Information: Guidance for schools and education settings on Child Protection (CP) and Children in Need (CiN)/pupil file structures and managing file movement'. The revised guidance sets out the legal framework and good practice guidance for the maintenance, retention and transfer of pupil child protection records between schools. Any copies of the previous guidance should be discarded.

The guidance can be found on the LSCB website, here is the link to the Education page - <http://suffolkscb.org.uk/working-with-children/education/>

5. Child Sexual Exploitation – Awareness raising

Letters and information packs were sent to 164 hotels and B+B's across Suffolk in August from the LSCB. These followed recent incidents in Suffolk where young people could book into hotels without appropriate checks in place.

We will be following up the letters with spot checks and calls from the Police and LSCB to selected hotels. The letter was jointly endorsed by the LSCB chair, the chair of the Child Exploitation Sub Group from Suffolk Constabulary, Licensing and Trading Standards.

6. Mind Of My Own (MOMO)

Introducing MOMO – engaging with children & young people in a way that suits them

Suffolk County Council has introduced a new way for children and young people to express their views, wishes and feelings.

MOMO is an application that can be used online or via a mobile app, and has been successfully implemented by over 60 local authorities. Workers create accounts to use with children and young people. Young people can use the application independently or with support. However, children will only be able to access the system through a worker or foster carer. There is also a version of the application for those whose language skills are limited due to disability or who have English as an additional language.

Children and young people can pick from a number of scenarios/topics that relate to the services they are receiving, to prepare for meetings or to share good news. Once complete their views are sent to workers; and also captured on case management systems. Using MOMO will make it easier to have more fun and empowering conversations with children and young people. It will save workers recording time and helps children and young people to take control of how they engage with services.

The Children in Care Council are supporting and monitoring the roll out of MOMO. For more information about the roll out of MOMO in Suffolk email: childrenincare@suffolk.gcsx.gov.uk. You can visit the website - www.mindofmyown.org.uk.

7. Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) update

An update from our LADO colleagues Rennie Everett and Dian Campbell.

The LADO service is undertaking a review of the LADO referral form, leaflet and arrangements for managing allegations and procedures. Updated documents will be available on the Suffolk Safeguarding website at the end of October 2017.

The service is also undertaking a review and evaluation of organisations underrepresented in terms of LADO referrals. Targeted training will be introduced where appropriate.

8. Grenfell disaster - response by LSCBs

Government has asked LSCBs to ensure that there is a local co-ordinated response to the Grenfell disaster and that families in Suffolk are not at risk from a similar fire. A report is being prepared and will be presented to the LSCB Board meeting in January 2018.

13. Graded Care Profile Update

Update on the roll out of the Graded Care Profile 2

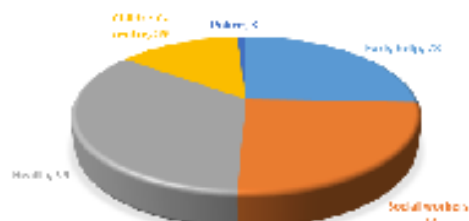

Courses delivered May – July 2017

7

Practitioners trained May – July 2017

167

LICENCED PRACTITIONERS ACROSS SUFFOLK (286 TOTAL)

What's working well?

- trainers have raised confidence levels in delivering the training
- all attendees have passed the assessment and gained their licence to use the tool
- following training reports of raised confidence levels in practitioners using the tool

"I have used the old Graded Care Profile tool and feel just as confident in using the updated/licenced version since completing the training."

"This will have a huge impact on how we support and target work with families where neglect is a concern. This tool really narrows down what areas we are worried about making the actions time efficient, manageable and focused for the family. This will also be useful when there is a stuck case or a case where long term neglect has been suspected but not enough seen or evidenced to support higher intervention via a step up."

What should we do differently?

- ensure that only frontline practitioners able to carry out the full assessment in the family home are attending the licenced training course
- increase numbers of social workers licenced to use tool by promoting training
- offer more 1 – 2 hour 'overview' course for managers and supervisors to assist them in supporting their team
- amend 'overview' session for other practitioners, e.g. MASH and Health
- Ofsted recommendations to provide renewed future focus for the training.
- Health, Education and Police to be included in the GCP2 learning

What's next?

- review and evaluate licenced course delivery with training and steering group
- deliver the 'overview' course for managers and supervisors at manager meetings / bespoke sessions for referral teams
- data collection and evaluation on raised understanding of neglect
- carry out interviews with practitioners and families on experience of using the GCP2 tool
- continue to offer a rolling programme of licenced training courses
- continue to collate data on the use of the GCP2 tool and submit to NSPCC for national evaluation

For more information please see Suffolk GCP Multi Agency channel and use course code M-GCP
